Lieutenant Donald Cameron thought himself inured to the rigours of the wartime Navy...until he joined the destroyer Burnside, and one of the most important convoys of 1942.

Defense and civilian suppliers, liners crammed with soldiers, and a 21,000-ton tanker — the British Racer — loaded with highly inflammable aviation spirit made up a massive, unwieldy convoy bound for the besieged island of Malta; and a full complement of aircraft carriers and warships was detailed to protect it.

Having suffered few losses from German U-boat harassment before reaching Gibraltar, morale in the Burnside seemed high — though the chances of reaching Malta unscathed were minimal.

Despite a constant barrage of anti-aircraft guns, the dive-bombing Stukas closed in rapidly, forcing the convoy into the path of the E-boats' menacing torpedo trails... the Lieutenant is keeping his wits about him.

A true test of determination, resilience and good old fashioned strategic warfare is essential.

But will it be enough to get them across the Mediterranean to safety?

'Storm of War' is the fifth instalment in the Donald Cameron Naval Thriller series. It was originally published as 'Cameron in the Gap'.

Praise for Philip McCutchan:

"A nautical war buffs feast...[McCutchan] keeps an authoritative hand on the wheel and his descriptions of battles at sea ring with laconic truth." —The New York Times Book Review

Philip McCutchan served at sea in the Royal Navy throughout World War II. From destroyers on Atlantic and Mediterranean escort duties, to a battle-cruiser, a battleship and an ocean boarding vessel, he ended his war service in an aircraft-carrier. His interests include naval and military affairs prior to 1946. He is the author 'Convoy of War', 'Dangerous Waters' and 'Deed of Glory'.

As a pupil exactly feel bored in order to reading. If their teacher questioned them to go to the library or even make summary for some guide, they are complained. Just very little students that has reading's heart and soul or real their hobby. They just do what the educator want, like asked to the library. They go to there but nothing reading very seriously. Any students feel that looking at is not important, boring and can't see colorful photographs on there. Yeah, it is being complicated. Book is very important for you. As we know that on this era, many ways to get whatever we would like. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore , this Storm of War can make you really feel more interested to read.
